MICHIGAN'S NEW STATE PARK

Michelson Lumber Co. Offers State Choice Site on Houghton Lake

The Nels Michelson Lumber Company has made a written offer to the State Conservation department to donate to the state, land for a state park on North Bay, Houghton Lake, north of M-55. The offer provides that the donor will give the state not less than forty acres of land, with a frontage of not less than eighty rods, on Houghton Lake.

Some people have favored a park just where M-55 turns west toward Lake City, on the shore of Houghton Lake, but there are some objections to this as the grounds are not suited to the purpose. But there are many wooded pieces of shore line farther north, that will make lovely parks, and some of these are likely to find favor when the park authorities come to look them over.

This generous offer fills a want that has been: many times expressed, for a public camp ground on Houghton Lake.

At present there is no place along the shore that the public can call its own, and the campers are only there on sufferance from the land owners, and the camping spots may be closed at any time. With a lake the size of Houghton, the camper ought to have a place he can call his own, that cannot be taken from him. This generous offer from the Michelsons insures it to him.

MEETING OF ATHLETIC DIRECTORS AND COACHES

The State Department of Public Instruction issues a bulletin calling a meeting for the athletic instructors and coaches from all over Michigan, to be held at the Michigan State College, September 10th, at 1:30 p. m.

The meeting is called by the Michigan High School Athletic association to discuss general athletic problems and particularly to discuss the interpretation of rules for the 1925 football season.

It is the desire of the State Department that opportunity be given to those engaged in athletic work to attend the meeting.

OTTO OSTRANDER LAY TO REST SATURDAY

The funeral of Otto Ostrander, the unfortunate 17 year old youth that lost his life last week Thursday when the well he was assisting in digging caved in upon him, was held Saturday noon. The services were held at the Michelson Memorial church and conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. Herman Baughn, who preached a very impressive sermon. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

The young man leaves to revere his memory his mother, Mrs. Frank Sanders; two brothers, Paul and Hally Ostrander; and a half sister, Martha Uhlenborg. Mrs. Sanders' two sisters, Mrs. Mary Spreng of Bay City, and Miss Martha Willey of Flint, and her brother Fred Willey and wife of Bay City were in attendance at the funeral.

The death of the young man was a very sad one. He with his brother Hally and Lee Mikesell were digging a well and neglected to use curbing for holding the edges. All were new at this work. The hole was four feet in diameter and they had dug down about 22 feet, the boys taking turns at shoveling the dirt into a pile while the others hauled it to the surface with a rope; when suddenly the earth caved in and with tremendous force buried Otto in the bottom of the pit.

While Mr. Mikesell hurried to town for help, Hally worked with all his might to remove the sand and to extricate his brother, but all in vain. The shock was so great that the brother had to be removed to Mercy hospital where in almost utter collapse he remained until the next day.

A number of men came from town and it was nearly four hours before the body of the dead boy was recovered.

Mr. Mikesell recently came here from Chicago and purchased the farm which is located about two miles from town on M-14, south of the city. The boys were employed by him.

The open season is October 25th to 31st, both inclusive, giving the sportsmen seven days in which to get their limit of four male birds.

SCHOOL OPENS TUESDAY MORNING

Grayling schools opened Tuesday morning, and Supt. B. E. Smith reports a large enrollment, and every teacher present. It was an inspiring sight to see the pupils flocking to the school house, ready to assume the new duties of the year.

As the class of 1925, as expected, did not appear, another group of young people stepped into the shoes of places they occupied as seniors last year. And as each class moved ahead, along comes into the assembly room a group of youngsters that look more like mere children than they do junior high pupils, and from now on may be depended upon to make themselves known among the large group. Wherever one might look there were bright faces and smiles and all seemed to be in a happy mood. Many out of town pupils are also noted this year, and they were received with a hearty welcome.

The school rooms look clean and neat and everything is in excellent order. The auditorium stage is especially attractive with its new roof furniture, a gift from the Girls Glee club of last year, that, under direction of Miss LaSalle, was earned by their entertainments. It is very handsome and this a great need.

In the lower grades also there was great excitement as the children filed to their respective rooms, and great awe whenever they found themselves in the wrong place. And there were also new ones—tiny tots, many of whom had to be taken to school by their mothers, and the kindergarten is a hive of activity, and the beginning of life's first milestones of education in the lives of the many little beginners.

Everything seems bright for a successful school year and school opens with the best wishes of the people of the community.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Complimenting Mrs. Rasmus Hanson, who was celebrating her 80th birthday anniversary, the members of the Danish Lutheran church congregation gathered at Daneborg hall in her honor last Sunday afternoon. The hour was 2:30 o'clock and there were a large number who came to congratulate that lady and extend best wishes.

Rev. and Mrs. Kjolhede gave very interesting talks and extended a glad welcome to those present, to which Mr. Hanson responded. Then all joined in singing a song, which was full of praise, and which paid a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Hanson who is a devoted member and earnest worker for the Danish Lutheran church. The song was composed by Mrs. Kjolhede.

Late in the afternoon a delicious lunch was served to all present by the ladies of the Danish Aid society. The tables were beautiful with foliage and gladioli, and adorning the table of the guest of honor was a beautiful birthday cake on which gleamed 80 candles. During the lunch hour J. W. Sorenson made a few appropriate remarks and Mrs. Hanson in her gracious manner extended her appreciation to everyone present. During the afternoon Mrs. Hanson was presented with a couple of books—tokens from the congregation. The affair was a very pleasant one for all.

Misses Helen Leitz, Elizabeth Matson, Grace Parker and Anna Hanson acted as pall-bearers. Helen Jean is survived by her parents and three brothers. Mrs. William Evans of Detroit came to be in attendance at the funeral.

ROCKEFELLER COMPANY PAYS HIGHEST INCOME TAX

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Largest Individual Taxpayer in United States.

New York.—New York, with its three revenue districts, again this year leads in income-tax payments by a vast margin.

While the largest payment in the country was that of the Ford Motor company of Detroit, with $16,438,180, and while the additional individual payments of Henry Ford and Edsel Ford brought the Ford contributions up to more than $20,000,000, New York City paid the largest individual tax—over $1,000,000—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose tax was $1,277,638. The records showed that the assessment of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was $1,277,638.

A striking exception to the lower taxes this year was shown in J. P. Morgan's return. His assessment of $1,437,375 is an enormous increase over last year, when his assessment was $824,333. Other large taxpayers in 1924-25, as against 1923-24, last year, were:

The following returns of prominent residents of the United States have been made public the various offices where they are on file: John D. Rockefeller, Jr., $1,277,638; John D. Rockefeller, Sr., $1,254,420; Andrew W. Mellon, $1,582,000.25; Senator James Couzens, $1,300,000; Vincent Astor, $842,600; James B. Duke, $841,200; J. P. Morgan, $874,714; C. W. Nash, $459,770; Mrs. Maria De Francis, $347,271.87; Arthur W. Cutten, $340,500; Douglas Fairbanks, $182,190.45; Executor James D. Phelps, $148,767; James A. Patten, $125,348; Chauncey Depew, $125,020; John W. Davis, $49,538; Mary Pickford, $34,387.02; Charles G. Dawes, $24,984; President Coolidge, $14,091; Marshall Field, $22,759; Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, $340; Charles S. Huppin, $345.81; Richard T. Crane, $344.47; Jackie Gogan, $283.20; Jack Dempsey, $247; Will H. Hayes, $10,234; Otto Kahn, $31,776; Edward B. McLean, $284.125.

8,000,000 Acres Winter

Wheat Increase in '26

Washington.—Domestic requirements will probably be heavily exceeded by winter wheat production in the United States next year if average yields are obtained and acreage is increased by some 4,000,000 acres, as proposed. It is pointed out by the Department of Agriculture in a report issued here. This would place the wheat market on a world basis, as against the approximate domestic basis believed responsible for the present favorable situation in wheat. It is pointed out that the intended acreage increase of 0.7 per cent is made, land sown to winter wheat this fall will be about 46,000,000 acres, it is declared. Under average conditions, this would mean the harvesting of about 10,424,000 acres, as against 38,818,000 acres this year.

Says China Must Perform Acts of Sovereignty

Detroit, Mich.—Willingness to carry out scrupulously the promises made to China by the United States at the Washington armament conference was expressed by Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state, in an address before the American Bar association.

Coupled with the pronouncement, however, was the statement that China at the same time would be required to "perform the obligations of a sovereign state in the protection of foreign citizens and their property." Secretary Kellogg said it was his belief that "the powers have all come to the conclusion that the tariff conference will have to be broadened beyond the strict letter of the Washington treaty."

STETTINIUS, MORGAN PARTNER, IS DEAD

His War Purchases for U. S. and the Allies Totaled Billions.

New York.—Edward R. Stettinius, a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., died at his home in Locust Valley of an illness which began a few weeks ago, but was not believed serious until within the last few days. His death was ascribed to embolism, a blood clot on the brain.

Mr. Stettinius was born in St. Louis in 1865. In 1909 he was elected president of the Diamond Match company. In 1915, while still active head of the Diamond Match company, J. P. Morgan & Co. asked him to assume active charge of the supply department formed to take care of the requirements of the British and French governments for munitions and materials. His work involved basic organizations of American industries for war purposes and had an important effect on the war-making capacity of the United States two years later when it entered the world war.

At that time Mr. Stettinius was appointed surveyor general of supplies for the War department. Through his activities as purchasing agent in the United States for the French and British governments in the early years of the war, Mr. Stettinius was responsible for the largest single transaction in the history of business. That his purchases ran into the billions of dollars is well known, although their exact amount has never been made public.

Mr. Stettinius is survived by his widow, Judith Carrington Stettinius, and by two sons and two daughters.

New York.—Celebrities numbering about one hundred, including song writers and financiers, social leaders and manufacturers, are joining to erect a $4,000,000 hotel at Boca Raton, in Florida. It was learned. The hotel, to be known as the Ritz-Carlton, will be operated by the Ritz-Carlton corporation, which runs a chain of hotels in the United States and abroad. Irving Berlin, the duchess of Sutherland and Jesse Livermore are among the prospective owners. Dwight I. Robinson and company have been given the contract and are expected to begin construction shortly.

During the same period exports totaled $330,026,053, an increase of $62,580,548 over the corresponding month of last year.

Heavier shipments of goods from Asia and Europe were responsible for the increase in imports while larger movements of goods to North and South America caused the jump in exports.

Mrs. J. B.
Bourland,

June 2, 1924, she writes:—

"For twenty-three years I was a constant sufferer from chronic catarrh. I had a severe misery and burning in the top of my head, a continual dropping of mucus into my throat causing frequent expectoration. My entire system became involved and I grew weak. It seemed as if I could not recover from a constant cough and frequent attacks of bilious colic. My bowels were affected, causing alarming hemorrhages. I tried many remedies and finally took Pe-ru-na. In three days I was relieved of my bowel trouble and entirely cured by five bottles. I most cheerfully recommend Pe-ru-na."

June 20, 1924, Mrs. Bourland writes again:—

"I will soon be seventy-nine years old and enjoy good health for one of my age. I still recommend Pe-ru-na and take it myself when necessary."

For more than half a century Pe-ru-na has a proud record of good done. Men and women the world over stand ready to testify to its value in the treatment of all catarrhal disorders.

WHY SHOULD ANYONE SUFFER WITH INDIGESTION OR ANY STOMACH MISERY?

If you want to fix up your dyspeptic out-of-order stomach so that you can relax what you eat without the least bit of after distress, do what tens of thousands of people have already done. Get rid of gas, bloating, belching, heartburn and that feeling of near suffocation that is a hard matter to get rid of. You've been getting hold of the wrong medicine—that's all. But better late than never—ask your druggist for a bottle of Dar's Mentha Pepsin—a real stomach medicine and a very pleasant one. Michigan Happenings

The city commission has adopted a resolution protesting against the proposed abandonment of the harbor at Monroe by the government. The city has been given until Sept. 20 to give its reasons why the port should not be discontinued. The resolution stated that the canal still is used by boats, is the only harbor along Lake Erie in Michigan and approximately $300,000 had been expended. It was stated that if the canal and River Raisin were properly dredged Monroe again would be one of the big ports.

Acclaim that swept through Grand Rapids like a storm, greeted the veterans of the Civil war in their annual parade here. Tens of thousands packed along the line of march poured out their applause. One tragedy occurred when Edgar A. Freeman of Grand Rapids, one of Custer's troops, fell dead of apoplexy as the signal gun boomed the moment for him to step in the ranks. More than 9,000 veterans were in line, all on foot with the exception of 500, who took advantage of the motor cars provided.

A tug and diver from the Great Lakes Towing and Wrecking Co. has left for Moon Island, 28 miles south of Saugatuck, to salvage the training boat "By-God" which is on the bottom of St. Mary's river, keel upward, where it capsized with 28 Detroit Sea Scouts on board, after running aground on a bar. The 28 scouts and Capt. Dean L. Smith were saved by the Coast Guard at Moon Island station after the disaster to their ship.

Mrs. Charlotte Smith, of Muskegon, has filed suit in Circuit Court against her daughter, Mrs. Rose Jackson, to recover property valued at $12,000. In her bill of complaint Mrs. Smith says that she deeded the property to her daughter with the understanding that she would be given a home, but now is obliged to live in a rooming house, although unable to care for herself.

Increased operating costs of the University of Michigan, Michigan State College and the Normal school, additions to the soldier's bonus sinking fund, building operations at Jackson prison and a $500,000 increase in the cost of operating state hospitals are responsible for the $2,300,000 increase in the state tax levy this year, Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck explained in a formal statement.

Glenn C. Gillespie is investigating the release from Jackson prison of Leeds and Richard Ludlow, prohibition law violators after serving less than two months of a sentence of from nine months to one year. Judge Gillespie has been informed by prison officials that the Ludlows were freed August 15. Commitment papers were issued July 2.

Voters of Jonesville will be asked to decide at the polls, September 14, whether or not a 20-year franchise shall be granted the Southern Michigan Light and Power company by terms of the contract the company agrees to purchase the electrical distributing system now owned by the village and to lease the power house and equipment for 20 years.

Detective Charles E. Phelps is the new chief of the Jackson police department. Capt. Frank Vandebogart, acting head of the force since the death of Chief John Hudson last December, was retired from the force because of disability on half the chief's salary.

The Standard Oil Co., the Sinclair Refining Co. and the White Star Refining Co. have announced a further reduction of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline. The service station price is now 18.8 cents, plus the 2-cent state tax, making the price to the customer 20.8.

Aibion will build a new foot bridge across the Kalamazoo river at Aibion street to supplement the vehicle bridge at that point. Perry Sharp, local contractor, has been given the contract.

The State Administrative Board has authorized the purchase of three and one-half miles of the Grayling Branch of the Manistee and North Eastern Railroad by the State Military Department. The spur runs into the Hansen Military Reservation.

Grade separations are to be provided at all trunk line highway crossings with the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad on the new location of the railroad in Lenawee and Monroe counties it is indicated. Highway Commissioner Rogers submitted a report stating the railroad had offered to pay fifty per cent of the expense for two separations, in Monroe and one in Lenawee counties. He was directed to seek federal aid on the projects before authorizing their construction.

The state gasoline tax passed the million dollar mark in July, it was announced by Secretary of State Charles J. DeLand. Gross receipts were $1,001,656, with refunds of $38,378. Net returns were $947,277. This brings the total for six months since the gasoline tax went into effect to $4,872,158, with refunds of $244,577, making a net return of a little more than $4,600,000 for the six months of this year, which, officials estimate, will be half of the total revenue. Receipts for August are expected to exceed the July figure.

Petition to disbar Judge Albert Widdis, Tawas City, has been filed with the attorney general by Thomas Galbraith, justice of the peace. Under state law, a circuit judge cannot be removed except by impeachment. It is also provided that only a licensed attorney can become a circuit judge. There is no ruling as to whether disbarment would mean automatic removal from office.

Herbert M. and Fred W. Kinney, Albion farmers, will give to the Michigan State college for purpose of germination 50 grains of wheat that are 50 years old. The kernels were brought by their father, Leonard Kinney, from the centennial exposition held in Philadelphia in 1876. The grain was secured at the Austrian building and was part of an exhibit of unusually large wheat from that country.

Fanned by stiff breezes, forest fires which have been raging in Cheboygan county for several days, grew in volume and the city of Cheboygan was entirely hemmed in by fire. In some places the fire was only two miles from the city limits and Cheboygan's 7,000 residents were in grave peril. The splendid brick school house in Beau-Grand township, three miles from Cheboygan, caught fire despite the efforts of hundreds of volunteers to beat back the flames.

His attempt to save the life of a dog cost the life of James Wiseman, of Wyandotte, and may result in the death of his wife, Wiseman and his wife were riding in an automobile 12 miles east of Sarnia, Ont., when Wiseman, who was driving, saw a dog run into the road in front of his car. Wiseman swerved the automobile in an effort to keep from striking the dog and ran into the ditch.

Michigan farmers and tourists now enjoy 418 miles more of federal highway than they did a year ago. This mileage, completed in the year ending June 30, cost $2,759,885, of which the federal government furnished $1,287,704. Highway construction under this plan now under way in the state totals 475 miles, while the total mileage completed previous to last year was 494 miles.

Benham came upon three hatless men as he was traveling his beat and arrested Trackin. The others escaped.

UNIFORM LAWS NATIONAL NEED

N. W. MacChesney Warns Against Enroachment on State's Rights

Detroit, Mich.—Col. Nathan William MacChesney of Chicago, warned a convention of national commissioners on uniform state laws, holding their convention here, that unless the various states voluntarily make their own laws uniform along progressive lines there will be a constantly increasing and determined effort to have congress enact general laws on subjects of the country's general concern, thus periling the nation's fundamental democracy.

Colonel MacChesney, who is president of the national conference of commissioners, warned against the growing encroachment of the federal government on state's rights and quoted President Coolidge to the effect that this encroachment is due to the fact that the states have not discharged their full duties. Mr. MacChesney declared that unless the states meet their responsibilities through uniform state laws they must lose still further their prestige and power.

Discussing the need for a philosophy of law, Mr. MacChesney said: "With age, growth of population and accumulation of wealth, a general government is sure to acquire immense power, and if with this is united the daily administration of affairs close to the people, the people themselves become habitually accustomed to government interference, and consequently not only in the matter of law to be enforced but in opinions on all subjects except from the central power the line of conduct to be followed, desired acts to be achieved, and the methods by which they are to be accomplished."

BRITISH EXECUTE FOR KILLING STACK

Egyptian Lawyer Battles With Guards on Scaffold

Cairo, Egypt.—Execution of seven men convicted of the murder of Sir Lee Stack, governor general of the Sudan, took place here. They were hanged at intervals of 45 minutes.

The death sentence imposed upon Abdul Fattah Enayat was commuted to life imprisonment.

Shafik Mansour, prominent lawyer and member of the Egyptian chamber of deputies, whose role, as revealed at the trial, consisted in remaining in the background and instigating and reanimating the actual murderers, did not bear up with the fatalistic fortitude of his comrades, however. After the guards had plied him with arms to lead him from his cell, Shafik renewed his wild struggles and actually burst his bonds in an effort to free himself.

Hopes that Mahmoud Ismael, believed to have been the organizer of several big political crimes, might break the silence which he maintained throughout the trial proved illusory. Ismael protested his innocence to the end and met his death with a smile, hurling jests at the warders as they led the men to the scaffold.

8 KILLED, 11 INJURED WHEN GUN EXPLODES

Chicago Soldiers Victims of Explosion of Trench Mortar at Camp Grant

Camp Grant, Ill.—Explosion of a Stokes trench mortar on the Camp Grant drill ground during firing practice killed eight negro soldiers of the Eighth Illinois infantry and injured eleven others.

The dead, all of Chicago, are Captain Osceola A. Browning, commanding the howitzer company, Corporal Henry Williams, and Privates Ben Anderson, Dejeune Campbell, Herbert Durant, Charlie Wright, Todd Mosely, and Elmo Baynes.

All the wounded were taken to Rockford hospitals after receiving first-aid treatment at the camp.

From witnesses of the tragedy a hazy story was gathered.

Standing near were two small boys, visitors with the regiment, Oswald Harris, son of Lieutenant Harris, and Harold Williams, a guest of Captain Browning. From them it was learned that the first time an attempt was made to fire one of the two mortars the propelling charge failed.

On the next attempt, said the boys, some of the men were told to remove the shell which filled the projectiles. In its place they inserted some of the cordite taken from the firing rings. It was this shell which was loaded into the mortar. Just what caused it to explode inside the barrel, throwing fragments of the gun in every direction, is not yet known.

When the smoke drifted away, the dead and injured lay in a shambles about their gun.

The explosion followed by just a few hours the injury of eleven civilians who were burned during a smoke bomb demonstration.

Editor Kills Bylander in Fight With Ex-Judge

El Paso, Texas.—N. M. Carl C. Magee, Albuquerque editor and storm center of New Mexico politics, shot and killed John B. Lassater, a state employee, in a hotel here when, in a fight with former District Judge D. J. Leahy, his political enemy, he drew a revolver and fired. Lassater was a bystander.

Magee fired two shots after he had been knocked to the floor by Leahy, the first shot striking Lassater and the second wounding Leahy in the arm. Leahy was the district judge who tried Magee in two cases, both of which gained national publicity. Magee was taken into custody.

Gasoline Prices Cut in Eleven Western States

Chicago.—Tank wagon and service station prices of gasoline were cut two cents a gallon by the Standard Oil company of Indiana. The reductions apply to the company's entire marketing territory in eleven Middle Western states. The new Chicago prices are 17 to 19 cents a gallon, respectively. Competitive conditions were cited by the company in an official statement as the sole reason for the reductions. Price cutting has been rampant in numerous population centers in the territory for weeks. This is the largest price reduction made this year in gasoline prices.

REFERRING ONCE MORE TO THAT MONKEY BUSINESS

That man was never either a monkey or ape, and that assumption to this effect are erroneous and foolish, was the declaration of Dr. Charles Hill-Tout, of Vancouver, B. C., of the Royal Society of Canada, lecturer and author, who spoke to the naturalist division of the American Association for the advancement of Science in Portland, Oregon.

"We have indisputed records of man which go back before the time of the ape," said Dr. Hill-Tout. Probably both ape and man came from some former ancestor in the phylogenic series farther back. It is true that we may say that man has ape-like characteristics, but it is equally true that the ape has manlike characteristics which does not mean muel unless interpreted correctly. In fact, nearly all living organisms have points of likeness.

"The oldest skeleton records of man go back about 500,000 years, but we know that man was relatively high in intelligence 2,000,000 years before this time. We have found excellent stone tools fashioned that long ago and with which man worked. The ape as yet has not brain power to make even the most crude implements for his own use."

Dr. Alexander Findley, professor of chemistry at the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, who spoke at the closing meeting, said that those who find conflict between religion and science are neither good religionists nor good scientists. The two can never be antagonistic, he declared, and such controversies as that in Tennessee are due to ignorance and inability to coordinate the findings of modern science with the universal scheme.

WEAK, RUN-DOWN NERVOUS, DIZZY

Mrs. Lee Suffered From All These Troubles, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well

Terre Haute, Indiana. "I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time and dizzy, had no appetite and could not sleep. I tried different medicines for a year but they did me no good. Then my husband saw the ad. for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and had me take it. I resumed my strength and never felt better in my life. It completely restored me to health. I had practically no suffering when my baby boy was born and he is very strong and healthy. I know that the Vegetable Compound is the best medicine a woman can take before and after childbirth for health and strength. I would be willing to answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. J. Lee, Route E, Box 645, Terre Haute, Indiana.

Wild Rose Makes Dainty Confection

Dog roses, sacred to Queen Alexandra, which are now furnishing the most glorious floral feature of the hedge rows in England, possess distinctive merits—specially neglected in these days. Most country housewives know that many dainty preparations can be obtained from the hips of the wild rose, but it is less widely known that a preserve of the blossoms is also employed in village confectionery, as well as among the north Germans.

These flowers are still considered a luxury by the Chinese, and Sir John Davis, describing a feast given to him at Shanghai, mentions a ragout of dog roses dressed whole. He disapproved of the celestial and ambrosial dish, and therein differs from old John Gerard, who affirmed that wild roses are greatly to be desired as a culinary vegetable, "as well as for their virtues and goodness in taste, as also for their beautiful color."—London Post.

The nominal value of the creatures is $105,000, but as teachers of natural history they are worth incalculably more.

Weak, Noble Creatures
In this world there are thousands of weak, noble creatures who fancy that sacrifice always must be the last word of duty; thousands of beautiful souls that know not what should be done and seek only to yield up their life, holding that to be virtue supreme. They are wrong; supreme virtue consists in the knowledge of what should be done, in the power to decide for ourselves where to we should offer our life.—Maeterlinck.

SATIN CREPE FOR AUTUMN; BEADED LACE FALL NOVELTY

ACCORDING to our psychologists, self-expression is the big thought of the present generation. Nor is this characteristic found wanting in the world of modern fashion. There is the matter of silk, for instance. In the days of "lavender and old lace" a silk dress was looked upon as a "possession," as a treasure trove reserved for "Sunday-go-to-meetin'" wear or for weddings or special festive occasions. For the ordinary affairs of life were the appointed materials. We modernists, being self-expressionists, take issue with this idea.

So it is silk we are choosing for school, for office, for home, for sports use is also accepted by stylists throughout autumn fashions. This vogue for lace embraces not only metal and other elaborate types, such as for instance the new beaded lace, but it also stresses daintily and colored silk laces. This favor for lace emphasizes the tendency to exploit simple and sheer effects for this fall and winter.

One of the elegances to which much attention is being directed is the graceful lace tunic. To be sure, there is a note of extravagance suggested in the idea, but as a matter of fact, economy is the chief asset of a lace overblouse which can be posed over various silken or satin costume slips, thus supplying for street, and in fact for general utility wear. To substantiate this claim that silk is eminently practical, for all occasions, we have taken to making it up in very simple styles which betray no signs of "fussiness" or overdone effects.

Two interesting silk frocks which elegantly bespeak modes adaptable to informal daytime wear are here illustrated. Attention is especially called to the girlish neck lines and tie effects. These tie collars are the stylists' pet theme this season. The majesty of darker silk dresses are enlivened by graceful long ties matched either to the frock or in contrasting color or most popular of all, of pure white, is inspiration to the woman of vision, and deft fingers. Most every family's cedar chest holds within its sacred precincts bits of lace treasured from generation to generation. Furthermore the bargain counter in this store and that offers tempting lace lengths to those who will, for a trifling fee, come and partake.

Beaded lace is the exquisite novelty promised for fall. In some instances the richness of lace is enhanced by embroidered in colored silk together with an interspersed of beads. There is a decided movement also toward the use of metal laces especially for evening gowns and for military purposes. JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

Outfit for Little Girl
The three- or four-year-old will look charming in a frock of delicate violet organdie with many tiny ruffles upon the skirt. A smart little organdie hat of the same material accompanies the dress.

New Stockings
White-lisle stockings for sports wear have clocks of color, while silk stockings have a band of blue just below the knee. In the center of which are small doll's heads edged with frills of lace.

Capes for Girls
Surely nothing could be nicer for the young girl at the seashore or mountain resort than a plaited cape of crepe de line.

The Right Finish
Nine out of ten women have adopted the scarf as a part of their costumes. Plain silks as well as the figured ones are the vogue.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

The Reverend Had a Little Lamb!

The pastor of a colored church in Tennessee was hailed before the board of deacons on serious charges. It was alleged that although married he had been caught in the act of embracing a comely female member of the congregation, in the vestry room. The evidence against him appeared to be conclusive. Three presumably unbiased witnesses testified to the fact.

The accused was asked whether he had anything to say in his own defense. He answered at length and with eloquence. He led off by pointing out that the word "pastor" was a Latin word meaning "shepherd." Therefore, he properly was a shepherd. He also called the attention of the court to the fact that in pictures and paintings and more frequently in stained-glass memorial windows the Master Himself was shown as a shepherd carrying a lamb.

Now then, he contended, it naturally followed that when he, as the shepherd, took a member of his flock in his arms, he merely was carrying out the scriptural example.

In the minds of the deacons there seemed to be no way of controverting these arguments. Accordingly they went into executive session and drew up resolutions exonerating the preacher. But they added a proviso.

The concluding clause of the document, as read by the senior deacon before the congregation on the following Sunday night, ran as follows:

"And be it further resolved that in future, our beloved pastor should feel de desire stealin' over him to tek one of de lambs of de flock in his arms, dat he shall tek a ram lamb!"

The Least of His Worries

Down in southern Alabama a person of color was fetched into court to be arraigned for his preliminary hearing on a charge of wilful murder.

"Mose Fupper," said the judge, contemplating the prisoner over his spectacles, "you are accused here of one of the most serious crimes known to our laws—to wit, the taking of a human life. Are you properly represented by counsel?"

"No, suh," said the darky cheerfully. "Well, have you talked to any one about your defense since your arrest?"

"I told de sheriff 'bout de shootin' when he come to my cabin to bring me heah," said the prisoner, "but 'tis 'till."

"And have you taken no steps whatever to engage a lawyer?"

"No, suh," said Mose. "I ain't got no money to be wastin' on lawyers. Dey-tell me lawyers is mighty costive."

"If you have no funds," insisted the judge, "it lies within the power of the court to appoint an attorney to represent you without expense on your part."

"You needn't be botherin' yosef," judge, answered Mose. "Well, what do you propose to do about this case?" demanded his honor.

"You must be properly defended," the lay co-provides.

"Jedge," said Mose, "ex-fur-ex-fur concerned you kin let de matter drap!"

Borrowed Plume

About once in so often I hear one which has the double merit of being good and being true. I personally vouch for the authenticity of the offering which follows:

I know a Kentucky lawyer, a brilliant man, who outgrew the small town where he was reared and where he began the practice of his profession. An offer came to him to go to Chicago and become the attorney for a big lumber concern. He went, taking his family with him.

Always he had lived comfortably but in a simple fashion as was befitting his original environment. But he felt the position he now occupied called for more display than formerly. So he rented a large house and installed a staff of servants, including a colored butler. On his first day of service the butler came to his new master for instructions.

"Mister Blank," he asked in his most hurried manner, "dows you desire me to wear my full dress suit ever' night at dinner?"

"Well, no," said the Kentuckian, "on nights when we have company I'd like for you to lend it to me."

How Much Are Poor Roads Costing You?

5,000,000 of America's 18,000,000 motor vehicles are recognized as an economic necessity on the farm.

Is your car giving the full efficiency of which it is capable—and at the lowest cost per mile possible?

Not if you are jolting over bumps and ruts. Not if you get stuck in the mud.

In addition to the time you thus lose along the way, you also pay from one to four cents a mile more in gasoline, tire and repair bills than you would pay on permanently paved highways.

Think, too, how many so-called improved roads have gone to pieces within the past few years, thereby piling up huge maintenance and rebuilding costs.

Contrast all this with the record of Concrete Roads—the roads that have repair built out and maintenance built in. Firm, rigid and unyielding, free of bumps, ruts, holes, mud and dust, they are, in every way, the most economical roads.

Tell your highway officials you want more Concrete Roads. Such an investment will pay you big dividends year after year.

Let us give you all the facts about Concrete Roads, including the experience of other communities. Ask for our free booklet, R-3.
